THE CATHEDRAL CHURCH OF SAINT PETER
ROCHFORD SQUARE, CHARLOTTETOWN

There was a certain rich man, which was clothed in purple and fine linen, and fared sumptuously every day. And there was a certain beggar named Lazarus, which was laid at his gate full of sores, and desiring to be fed with the crumbs which fell from the rich man's table: moreover the dogs came and licked his sores. St. Luke 16.19-21

We have known and believed the love that God has for us Beloved if God so loved us we also ought to love each other.” 1 John 4. 16

JUNE 1st JUSTIN MARTYR (c. AD 100 – c. AD 165) was born into a Greek family, in Nablus, on what is now the West Bank, in Palestine. He came upon an old man, possibly a Syrian Christian, who engaged him in a dialogue about God and spoke of the testimony of the prophets as being more reliable than the reasoning of philosophers. There existed, long before this time, certain men more ancient than all those who are esteemed philosophers, Socrates and Plato, both righteous and beloved by God, the Hebrew prophets, who spoke by the Divine Spirit, and foretold events which would take place, and which are now taking place. These both saw and announced the truth to men, neither reverencing nor fearing any man, not influenced by a desire for glory, but speaking those things alone which they saw and which they heard, being filled with the Holy Spirit. Their writings are still extant, the Holy Scriptures, and he who has read them is very much helped in his knowledge of the beginning and end of things, and of those matters which the philosopher ought to know, provided he has believed them.

In the reign of Marcus Aurelius, Justin, after disputing with the philosopher Crescens, was denounced to the Roman authorities. Justin was tried, together with six friends, two of them slaves, and was beheaded.

JUNE 5th BONIFACE, MISSIONARY, BISHOP and MARTYR c. 675 – 5 June 754 was an English Benedictine monk and leading figure in the Anglo-Saxon mission to Germany and was made bishop of Mainz by Pope Gregory III. He was martyred in Frisia in 754, along with 52 others, and his remains were returned to Fulda, where they rest in a sarcophagus which remains a site of Christian pilgrimage.

from The Crown of the Year by Austin Farrer, weekly paragraphs on the Holy Sacrament. 'This is my body', said Christ at the Supper, and it was so. He is well able to consecrate bread, for he speaks the word of God. The world itself only exists because God said that it should be, and it was so. Christ has consecrated bread, and it is consecrated; his consecration takes effect upon our altars. But why should he consecrate bread? Only that the consecration of the bread might extend, and embrace the company which partakes of the bread. 'This is my body' he declares, and it is his body. We receive it, and we are his body, signed, sealed, consecrated by the word which made the world.
