The Bread that I will give is my flesh:
which I will give for the life of the world.

Holy Communion

The Sacrament is offered in both kinds, both bread and wine. If you choose not to receive the wine, please fold your arms X, and remain at the rail to hear the words of administration. If the rail is full to the middle, please go as far to the left as possible before you kneel so that others will not have to walk over your legs. There has been no evidence of any transmission of disease since the restoration of the cup in 1549.

Communion Hymn 318 ~ Picardy Hymn 319 ~ St. Osmund

from The Crown of the Year by Austin Farrer, weekly paragraphs on the Holy Sacrament. Jesus broke the bread of the Supper into as many pieces as there were disciples present. Peter took one piece, John another and so on until there was none of it remaining. He gave his mysterious body away to his friends without remainder and without reserve, for that was the principle of his life. He also said to his disciples, ‘Give, and it shall be given unto you.’ But I do not find that I give myself away as he gave himself away. I find that I am jealously keeping my life for myself, stealing this and that part from my neighbour and from God, making up little closed packets of pleasure and pride. ‘Give, and it shall be given to you’. If we could once for all give ourselves away, be perfectly at the disposal of God and of men, Jesus would fully give himself to us.
