Spook Organa! Concert!

The Royal Canadian College of Organists continues its Spook Organa! Hallowe'en tradition by performing scary organ music on Sunday, October 27th, at St Peter's Cathedral (11 All Souls' Lane, Charlottetown). The concert of macabre organ classics is punctuated with haunting readings from authors such as Edgar Allen Poe, Mary Shelley, and others. Join the fun but be prepared to be frightened! Come in costume and receive a loot bag! The concert begins at 7:00 pm and admission is by free-will offering. Children are invited to bring a donation to the food bank.

Communion Hymn We gather together Tune - Kremser

Prayer of Thanksgiving

1. We gather together to ask the Lord's blessing;
He chastens, and hastens his will to make known;
The wicked oppressing now cease from distressing.
Sing praises to his name; He forgets not his own.

2. Beside us to guide us, our God with us joining,
Ordaining, maintaining his kingdom divine;
So from the beginning the fight we were winning;
Thou, Lord, were at our side; All glory be thine!

3. We all do extol thee, thou leader triumphant,
And pray that thou still our defender will be.
Let thy congregation escape tribulation;
Thy name be ever praised! O Lord, make us free!

Question Box Response:

Question: Please explain what the Priest represents in the Mass. How does he pray for our souls at Mass?

In the Anglican Church, Priests are ministers of Word and Sacrament. They pray, teach, and celebrate the Lord's Supper, among other sacred tasks. To do these things, a person is ordained by a Bishop, who lays hands upon the ordinand and prays, by the Holy Spirit, that they might be a "faithful dispenser of the Word of God, and of His holy Sacraments." Through the tradition of the Church, these people have, in a way, been set apart from the rest of the community to minister to, and on behalf of, that community.

Because of the very intimate connection with the original followers of Jesus, namely the Twelve Apostles, there is a long line of descendants which we refer as the Apostolic Succession. At Mass, we believe that in the Eucharist, the priest (who is in that Succession by the laying on of hands) through prayer, the invocation of the Holy Spirit, and the prayer of the congregation brings us all into the "Real Presence" of Jesus Christ, His Very Self. Just as Christ's prayer and self-giving on the cross is most sacred, the Church's remembrance of that sacrifice is the most sacred act of the community.

To answer the question about the priest praying for the souls of the faithful, this is only part of the picture, since we ALL pray for each other's souls. In our Anglican tradition, the Eucharist cannot be celebrated by the priest alone, there must be another person present, giving more credence to the whole company "celebrating", not just one individual. In the Mass, the prayers of all faithful people, living and departed, become one in Christ's sacrifice on the cross.

Of course, the priest prays for us. In response to St. Peter the Apostle's profession of love for Jesus in the 21st Chapter of the Gospel of St. John, Jesus says to him, "Tend my lambs [...] Tend my sheep." This is what the Latin text, "Pasce oves meas, Pasce agnos meos", on our red banner means. Recalling this, the Priest, at ordination, accepts the vocation to pray that the Church might be nourished by Christ Himself and, for this, we are very thankful.

* St. Luke the Evangelist

from The Crown of the Year by Austin Farrer, weekly paragraphs on the Holy Sacrament. The parable of the wedding garment has a cruel sound. How could the poor man, dragged in from the highway or the hedge to fill a place at the king's table, provide himself a wedding garment? The cruelty disappears if we turn from the parable to the thing signified in it. We are the men whom God's mercy has brought to his table, and the garment of glory is bestowed on us by his royal hand: 'Put ye on' says the scripture 'the Lord Jesus Christ'. We come here to keep our holy feast as members of Christ's body; in making us his members Christ spreads the garment of his own sanctity upon us. If we confess our sins, God is faithful and just to forgive us our sins, and to receive us as though we were Christ himself.
