Hall Chairs: After two decades supporting participants in various receptions, rentals, parties, coffee hours, meetings and movies the fabric covered hall chairs have received a much-needed professional cleaning. Hopefully, with your care and assistance the chairs will serve another 20 years.

Oak Chairs: Thanks to Binney several of the original wooden Cathedral chairs have been repaired and are in use in the Chapel, Cathedral, Chapter room and Audio centre. The chairs date to the opening of St. Peter's in 1869. The current pews were installed almost 60 years later in 1928. Tony was able to combine some damaged chairs to refurbish these visible links to our history.

SATURDAY, JUNE 22nd SAINT ALBAN is venerated as the first-recorded British Christian martyr.

Alban lived in Roman Britain. According to Bede's Ecclesiastical History of the English People, in the 3rd or 4th century, when Christians began to suffer "cruel persecution", and Alban was living in Verulamium. Tradition says that Alban met a Christian priest fleeing from persecutors and sheltered him in his house for a number of days. Alban was so impressed with the priest's faith and piety that he found himself emulating him and soon converted to Christianity. Eventually, it came to the ears of the Roman authorities that Alban was sheltering the priest. These authorities gave orders for soldiers to make a search of Alban's house. As they came to seize the priest, Alban put on the priest's cloak and clothing and presented himself to the soldiers in place of his guest.

Alban was brought before a judge, who sentenced him to endure all the punishments that were to be inflicted upon the priest, unless he would perform the rites of their religion. Alban refused, and declared, "I worship and adore the true and living God who created all things." The enraged judge ordered Alban to be scourged, thinking that a whipping would shake the constancy of his heart, but Alban bore these torments patiently and joyfully. When the judge realized that the tortures would not shake his faith, he gave orders for Alban to be beheaded.

NEXT SUNDAY JUNE 23rd The Royal Canadian College of Organists (RCCO PEI Center) will perform a "PROGRESSIVE ORGAN CONCERT" at three downtown Charlottetown churches. Performers and audience are invited to move from church to church.

1:30 at St Paul's Church (101 Prince St).

2:30 Trinity Church (220 Richmond Street)

3:30 St Dunstan's Basilica (45 Great George Street)

Admission is by free-will offering. All proceeds will go toward the Dr Alan Reesor Memorial Scholarship and used to encourage young area musicians to study the pipe organ.

The "Progressive Organ Concert" is a wonderful opportunity to sample the music of the "King of Instruments" performed by local organists and to enjoy the beauty of three of PEI's historic churches. You are invited to attend all portions of the concert, or you can choose to attend only part. Regardless of your choice, you can anticipate a delightful afternoon of music.

from The Crown of the Year by Austin Farrer, weekly paragraphs on the Holy Sacrament. It has often seemed unreasonable that there should be more joy in heaven over one repentant sinner than over ninety-nine just men in need of no repentance, as though we gave most joy to the heart of God by often sinning and repenting often. But God has no joy in insincere repentances, and to repent sincerely is to repent, so far as we can make it, irrevocably. It is not for us to theorise repentance, but to repent; we at least are sinners, and we can give to the heart of God the joy he prizes so, for we can repent. Especially since the careful searching fingers are stretched from heaven to find the missing silver, and the love of God does not rest from seeking the lost sheep. How, in fact, was Jesus seen to be seeking the sinful publicans? He sat and ate with them. And he is seen to be seeking us, in that he has drawn us to share his table.

In birth our fellow man was he,
Our meat while sitting at the board.
He died our ransom to be,
He ever lives our great reward.
